GLACIERS & ICE CAPS

GLACIERS AND ICE CAPS (A request from the guides)

Many of the glaciers and ice caps on your planet have existed from the time it was formed. They hold the history of your planet, every year down through the ages. I'm sure when you think of this you can realize the amount of information that may be of a negative nature.

A THANK YOU!

Water has what might be called "memory", and is liquid crystal. So as you gaze at pictures of glaciers, they appear as giant crystals, do they not? These giant crystals hold your collective history.

A GLOBAL EXPERIMENT

These glaciers are of course submerged in ocean waters and so are continually in contact with them, every minute of each and every day. During this contact the information is transferred to these waters, and as you know, the ocean waters touch the shores of all land masses.

PROJECT

This is why we would like to make a request that you add "all glaciers and ice caps", to your C&L list. Many have already added "all bodies of water on the planet", which would include oceans. If you have not added this, we would ask that you add "all bodies of water on your planet" at this time.

HOT SPOTS

We also wish to take this opportunity to communicate to you our love and gratitude for all that you are doing/accomplishing with your peace healings. It is so much more than you even realize at this moment. You are the ones who have chosen to step out ahead and heal your planet, making it a better place for all future generations.

Thanks from Kurt

Believe it or not, Kurt is home from the hospital and is continuing his convalescence. He wanted to thank everyone who added him to their list. He was one very seriously ill man, so thanks to all who helped!!

A Global Experiment

There are 5000 plus people registered to participate in a "Global Intention Heals Project" on November 8th. This is with destinations from all around the globe. This will be an experiment to scientifically evaluate how intentions and healing affect the brain. If you are interested in this, please log onto this website and register.
