NORTH KOREA TALKS GOING TO PROCEED

PYONGYANG, North Korea (AP) -- China and North Korea cheered their close-if-strained relations Monday during a visit by the Chinese premier that is being watched to see if Pyongyang will agree to return to nuclear disarmament talks.

IRAN

On the second of a three-day visit, Chinese Premier Wen Jiabao went to a cemetery to honor Chinese soldiers killed in the 1950-53 Korean War against the U.S. - an excursion that highlighted relations that the communist allies refer to as forged in blood.

THE STAGE IS SET

Beyond the niceties, Wen's visit is seen as an inducement to Pyongyang to return to the disarmament talks it rejected after conducting nuclear and missile tests this spring. Though North Korea has since moderated its rhetoric, the cautious Chinese leadership is unlikely to have agreed to Wen's trip without assurances about resumed talks.

Reporting from Cairo and Tehran - Saying Iran appeared to be moving away from confrontation with the West, the head of the United Nations nuclear enforcement agency announced Sunday that Tehran had agreed to a date this month for international inspectors to visit what until recently had been a covert underground uranium-enrichment plant.

The decision to open the plant to outside scrutiny on Oct. 25 was a concession by Tehran to defuse Western criticism over the intent and scope of Iran's nuclear program. In a meeting with world powers last week, Iranian negotiators agreed in principle to grant the International Atomic Energy Agency access to the facility, which President Obama has criticized as a "direct challenge" to global nonproliferation.

THE STAGE IS SET

For those that aren't familiar with classes that are held in Orange County, there is a Circle held once a month by Anne Reith Ph.D. (AnneReith.com). During this circle spirit comes through with messages they wish to communicate to us.

At last night's Circle (10/6/09) as soon as the meditation began, I saw a brilliant blue. As I looked at it more closely, I noticed it was a stage, a stage with a brilliant blue background. As I looked even closer I noticed the stage was completely empty except for the blue background. Then I noticed two angels, one standing on each side of the stage. I heard "the stage is set." I wasn't sure what this meant.

Today as I remembered that stage, I heard "code blue." Now I've heard this term before, and I knew it was used in hospitals, but I never really knew what it meant, so I had to look it up. Without a lot of details, it means a critical medical emergency. Then more began to come to me.

This special time on our planet, this choice point time, is a "code blue" for humanity. The stage is set - the decision ours. Those of us using DivinePeaceHealing have made that choice. We are sending out peace and love to all those in need on the planet.

It all made sense now. For approximately 4 days before circle I kept getting the feeling the guides wanted us to know how important this time on our planet was. It's not like any time before us. If you have read Gregg Braden's book "Fractal Time", you will have an even greater understanding of what this very special time means to us and to our planet. Gregg explains it from a scientific and a spiritual point of view.

Then I realized that the live channeling I did with St. Theresa on Tuesday September 29, was referring to the same thing. She said, "This is why we came. Many wanted to come, but only a few could. We are some of this few and should feel privileged and blessed."

As DPH healers, you have made that choice. You have chosen to heal and bring peace to your planet and all her inhabitants. This is why you came. We are all blessed to be here doing this work, and blessed with each other.

As a founder of DivinePeaceHealing, I feel blessed to know each and every one of you. I thank all of you for all that you do and all that you are!
