Pakistan Taliban - What If?

BBC News, Islamabad

Baitullah Mehsud, the feared militant commander in Pakistan, appears to have ended his career in much the same way as he had started - by keeping a low profile. Speculation about whether he is dead or alive is rife across Pakistan - from the mountainous tribal territory of South Waziristan to the capital Islamabad.

If he is gone, it will lead to a dramatic re-orientation of his Pakistani Taliban movement, Tehrik Taliban.

NORTH KOREA

Former U.S. President Bill Clinton's surprise meeting with Kim Jong-il has turned the standoff into a dialogue between the United States and North Korea. While the ostensible purpose of the trip was the release of the two journalists detained in North Korea for the last four and half months, and the U.S. government declared the journalist problem and the impending political questions separate, North Korean media reported that a wide range of issues of mutual interest had been discussed, and Clinton conveyed to Kim a verbal message from President Obama.

Q&A

Q: When setting the intent, are we supposed to envision each country/location as is shown on the map?

A: No, unless you want to. It would be up to each person and what they "feel" best doing. If you feel better visualizing each country as it is on the map, that's totally up to you. "Intention is everything", and when we state our intention, that is all that's needed. We are each powerful spiritual beings, and our intent is enough.

Q: Is the healing more concentrated if given to one group at a time?

A: All you need do is have two lists: One for Groups and Organizations and one for Countries and Locations. On each of these lists you can have an unlimited number of listings. Each is listed separately in this list, for example: Under Groups and Organizations, you might have Taliban/AlQuaida, Mexican Drug Cartel, All the Media in the world, FDA, etc.

The reason each is listed separately in this list is because by "intention" you are actually carrying out a healing on each group separately. In order to do this, you by intention add it to your list, and then all you have to do is state the name of this list (such as My G&O List) each time you do a healing. By stating the name of the list, then each group on that list is receiving a separate healing. (It will be just as concentrated as doing each one separately without the list)

Q: I guess I misunderstood because I've been doing the healings on the new project "Hot Spots" since your last email went out!

A: I'm sorry, I might not have explained well enough. If you know the number of healings you have already done on "Hot Spots", then just add them to the ones you do the first week, when you give me the tally. I'll also add that to my tally e-mail to remind you.

COMMENTS

I have to share something . I noticed that if I don't do a Peace Healing (at night) I don't sleep as well. As a matter of fact I tossed and turned one night when I didn't do the Peace Healing for the Taliban/AlQuaida and in general had a bad case of insomnia. When I've made the time to do it - no matter how late or tired I am - I feel refreshed afterwards and my sleep pattern is undisturbed. A rather interesting 'side effect', wouldn't you say?

Margaret

That's certainly a side-effect I've never heard of! Any of you others out there experiencing anything like that?
